Summer Time!

Summer is almost here and with that means more outside time! Outside time means more dirt time so please remember to dress your children in clothes that they can get dirty in and preferably wearing closed toe shoes. Open toe shoes can lead to more splinters from the bark chips and more bashed toes from the trikes. If your child chooses to not wear closed toe shoes please pack them a pair. I totally understand the will power of a toddler so as long as you bring a pair along that will work. Sunscreen is going to be lathered on regularly. If you desire a specific brand, please write the name on the sunscreen and leave it at the daycare for their personal use. To add to the sun safety if children can come with hats to wear outside while they play that would also be beneficial. We have so many fair skinned blondes that it is needed to protect their little scalps.

Unfortunately, with summer time comes the last days we have with Jaelyn. She will be leaving the daycare to work with MCP over the summer and then plans to attend college in person. We will be having a surprise birthday party for her on Friday which will also be a good bye party. We have thoroughly enjoyed having her at the daycare again but this time as an employee. If you wish to say good bye and give her hug your children are welcome to stop in. With this information we will need to have schedules in advance due to being limited on staff members. We are going to be hiring so if you do know anyone looking for a job that is trustworthy with children send them our way. The position will be for a closer Tuesday through Friday with the possibilities of getting more hours as things begin to get busy.

Preschool

Please let us know as soon as you know about your place in the preschool so we will know what openings we may have for other children come next year. I know it is a waiting game at this moment but the sooner the better as we do have a small waiting list for younger children wanting a spot at the daycare. If we are able to get a third staff member, we may be able to get our little preschool going in full swing again.

Seasonal Allergies

Children have been having issues with allergies this year. Please remember with allergies kids will have runny noses and could possibly have a cough. If a child has an explainable cough related to allergies just give staff a heads up. Also, if your child has begun to get dry skin, we are able to lotion them up midday around nap time. A few parents have requested this, so I thought I would put it out there that this is a possibility for every child.
